Panhandle.

About sixty people have moved to Carson county during the winter.

Wheat looks just like it was going to fill the farmers' granaries this summer.

We have heard that Judge Paul was planning to move a colony of immigrants to Carson county this year.

Mr. Editor if you should visit Panhandle any Friday soon, you ought to visit the school to hear the students sing and declaim.

Rev. Clark of the M. E. Church North was transferred from here to Dalhart. Bro. Clark and family have the mark of Christ written in their hearts.

The farmers around Panhandle shipped a car of oats from the black lands of Texas to this place, the latter portion of last week and this week the farmers are busy planting oats.

After a continuat on of seven months, it seemed our school would have to close, but through the goodness of Judge Gray and Treasurer Callaghan, our school continues one more month.

Our groceryman, Mr. Ashney Callaghan, who had a severe spell of rheumatism some time ago, is now quite sick. We hope his case is not serious and that he may soon see him at his place of business again.

Rev. Kendall is now our pastor of the M. E. Church North. The people of this place have been knowing Bro. Kendall for years, and love him as a man and a preacher. He will move here as soon as he can get a house.

Rev. Hawkins of the M. E. Church South, preached a most feeling sermon here the third Sunday. Not long since the dear brother, in great sorrow, had to lay his son beneath the sod till time shall be no more. God made our brother a wonderful pulpit entertainer long ago; but now God has given our brother a pathos and a tenderness that shall stir the hearts of men and women. May God bless Brother Hawkins and keep him near the cross.

Wheat is looking fine.

Success to the HERALD and its many readers

Bro. Kendall is an old timer in the Panhandle and knows how to interest Panhandle people.

Preaching at the school house Sunday evening by Rev. Kendall to a large and appreciative audience.

Mr. McWherry and wife of the bar ranch visited old friends and neighbors Saturday and Sunday.

Another fine rain last week. All the lakes are full of water yet and the grass is growing nicely but slow.

Plowing and oat sowing will commence in earnest this week as the ground is getting so the team won't mire up.

Chuck is running low but don't strain your eyes looking for me, as it still takes four horses to pull a two horse load from Amarillo here.

Thrashing began in earnest today. The Gasoline traction engine is here and it is a beauty. Come down, Mr. Editor, and take a ride with us on it.

Gardening is now the order of the day with most farmers, come down Mr. Editor and bring your whole staff and I will feed you on onions grown this winter and spring.

Mr. Simms has moved to his new home. His little girl Esther had the misfortune of falling from the wagon, the wheel ran over her hip, fortunately no serious damage was sustained.

Mr. Sellers of Amarillo was here last week and purchased a car of millet hay and one of millet seed from G. W. Garretson; both cars have been loaded and one of them shipped out.

Our district still has enough money to run a school about three months. We think of starting in again about June, if we can secure a good teacher. This will give us a 9 or a 10 months' term during the next 12 months.

Miss Lula Harris closed her school last Friday (at the end of five months). She is to commence a five months term at Llano school house, in Armstrong county, where she taught last summer. Miss Harris never fails to be wanted the second term.

H. B. Conaway contemplates sowing 100 acres in oats. There will be a large acreage sown in this vicinity this spring. Wheat and speltz can be sown in this county until the middle of April at least, and millet can be sown almost any time during the summer that you can get a season for bringing it up.

Our town of Hudson, (known as Lee Stratton) is a section station on the Santa Fe railroad, about seven miles from Washburn and nine miles from Panhandle. J. L. Slimp in our postmaster, but the office is run by Mrs. Stewart, the wife of the general foreman on the section. Mr. Stewart is an up-to-date foreman and the hands he keeps are nice gentlemen. Lets all quit calling them Paddies.

J. H. Handall purchased a gang disc plow from Charlie Tolleson of Amarillo, last week. Charlie told him he could lay down some old fashioned puncheons to start on, if he desired, but as timber is a little scarce on the plains Mr. Randall started it on the toughest sod he could find. It threw the sod so wickedly that Mr. Randall decided to wait till the ground dried so as to hold the plow down and keep it from running off with the team. Now I am not trying to advertise Charlie's plow but it is sure a daisy.

Dr. C. S. Bingham is sick this week with la grippe.

Several boys have quit school to go to work in the field.

Mr. Upton and family will probably leave us next week.

Several men went to Oklahoma this week to take up land.

Several ranchmen were in from Beaver county this week after supplies.

Mrs. Durrett has opened up a millinery shop. This makes two for our town.

Mrs. R. A. Taylor who has been suffering with rheumatism for some time is better.

Willie Wakefield's team ran away with him Wednesday. The buggy was torn to pieces.

Mrs. H. A. Knight and daughter, Mrs. Jessie Clark, left for Dalhart Sunday evening.

The ladies of the Home Mission society will give an entertainment on the night of April 6th.

A. L. Medlock repaired the county well Saturday. The people will have plenty of water again.

D. T. Wren of Amarillo, and Geo. Heifrin of Weatherford, are two of the many prospectors here this week.

W. B. Hudsouth has rented the T. D. Lipscomb place, where he will move right soon and put in a crop this spring.

The Stratford Mercantile's new goods came in this week. They have a nice stock and are doing a good business.

Elton Johns gave a birthday party Thursday evening, to some of his little friends who report a pleasant time.

The real estate men are kept busy this spring showing prospectors over the country. Some think Stratford will be on a boom.

J. W. Burrows of Briscoe county, has bought two sections of land lying twelve miles east of Stratford. He will move to it in the fall.

Several light rains have fallen this week which were of great benefit to crops, also to the green grass which is just beginning to come.

Tascosa Dots.

Mrs. Jackson visited the home of J. M. Montgomery last week.

Mr. Wm. Blivins and wife visited Mr. and Mrs. McGee Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Hamilton and wife of Wildorado visited in town Saturday and Sunday.

Joe E. May and son were in from Vega Saturday after another load of household goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Kreisman owners of the LS ranch with Mr. and Mrs. Gray visited Tascosa Saturday.

We understand that T. B. Jones has bought the residence of J. E. May, and still there's more to follow.

Joe Frazier and wife of Channing passed through town Sunday after spending the day at the Lit ranch, their former home.

Wallace and Turner sold to J. A. Borex of Panhandle, Saturday, one hundred and fifty head of cows to be delivered about May 1st.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Whitfield who resides near Vega is so ill. He has many friends here who are hoping he will soon be well.

Dumas Doings.

Day has gone, night am come, Ole nigger take he rest, Ob all the countries ebber I saw Panhandle suits me de best.

More rain, better rain—ground wet to the bottom—green grass. Cattle in fine condition, lustily lowing in gladness for the return of spring. Have to set up more posts for them to rub off the old dead hair—the last relic of the past hard winter. Cackling hens, gobbling turkeys and the imaginary singing of the birds among the rustling boughs, completes the picture of the joy and gladness that permeates the atmosphere in and around Dumas.

Cass Thompson is on the puny list—we hope soon to have him out.

Our school is progressing nicely and all things are lovely around Dumas.

Some gardening being done one and early corn planting will be the style this year.

Josh and Joe McAdams relieved the town of the six weeks' water famine, by repairing the well last Friday.

Will Caldwell from the Blue Creek country, sold some very fine seed sweet potatoes in Dumas yesterday.

J. W. Morton passed through town yesterday on his return from the Cattlemen's Convention at Ft. Worth, reports a good time. He was I believe the only representative from this section.

And now the voice of the new born baby girl which occurred at the home of our amiable, affable Judge, W. M. and Mrs. Eva Jeter, is adding its dulcet strains mingling in the joyous throng—and so the joy goes on.

On the third Sunday Rev. W. H. Younger, Missionary pastor of the Baptist church for the community, held services in the Methodist church. Although cool and windy he had a good congregation and entertained us with a fine sermon. A thoroughly good and pious man, full of the power and spirit of the Holy Ghost, he entertained us for an hour with an enlivening sermon.

We had a couple of prospectors in Dumas last week, one from Bosque county and one from Mills. They are beginning to drop in and by the time grass gets good we are looking for them in flocks. Come along ye good men and fill up "God's Country." Our greatest desire is to see it bloom and blossom as the rose. Once I was young but now I am old, but I have never seen a more inviting country than this, and I am sure you will never see thrifty, energetic men or their seed begging bread.

On the 26th Bro. J. Winford Hunt filed the pulpit at Dumas. He came sick, had been so for a week in Channing, so we could not and did not expect more than a short lecture from him. His theme and text was from Paul, "Press Forward to the Mark." As the beauty and glory of the race revealed itself to him and the power of the Holy Spirit fell upon him he launched out, clothed in the whole armor of God and ran to the glory and edification of his audience, till he reached the goal. My, it was a grand sermon with a grand ending. All felt it was good to be there. Apropos, I told the brother he had better get sick again as he had beaten himself on this occasion.

MORE ANON.

Vega Items.

Mr. J. N. Whitfield is very low with consumption.

Miss Berta Holloway went to Amarillo Friday shopping.

Mrs. J. L. Holloway was able to visit the sick Sunday.

Little Everette Wiseman is visiting his uncle and aunt in Amarillo, Ernest Pierce and wife.

Quite a number of Vegans carried in a lot of grain last week, and some of them brought back lumber for Mr. May's house.

We understand Mrs. J. N. Ivy will return to her home in Vega by the first of April, having been at their ranch for quite awhile.

Warm spring weather is putting new life in the people of this vicinity. Many are preparing to sow oats and plant early gardens.

There will be preaching at Vega next Saturday night by Bro. Brendel, the first day of April. Sunday, the second is expected to be a big day at North Draw, everybody come and bring dinner.

Let us have a chat through the different correspondents to the HERALD. How to garden on the plains to have best results? What to plant and when to plant, especially how to grow onions.

Mrs. J. L. Holloway says she can tell you how to grow cabbage best for fall and winter, and the best seed to sow. Anyone wishing to know ask through the HERALD, and she will kindly give her method and experience.
